The Janesville Daily Gazette.

VOLUME 27 | Entered at the Post Office at Janesville Wis., as second-class matter. | JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1884. | Published Every Evening Except Sunday, at $6 a Year. | NUMBER 288

The public debt was reduced $11,800,000 during January.

Iowa is said to have produced 171,500,000 bushels of corn last year.

Out of the 5,000 bills introduced in the house of representatives, 1,400 are special pensions.

There are two sides to the hog question. It is a noteworthy fact that every American hog has two sides.

Madison hopes to have street cars running in that city before summer. A company has been organized to do the work.

Vennor says we will have a snow storm next Sunday. This is tolerably fair evidence that next Sunday will be clear.

It seems that the week cannot close without another sadly fatal horror. Full particulars will be found in our telegraphic columns.

The democratic party is just now pretty well stocked with misery. It never had little enough of that to be comfortable—not since '60.

Nothing can place the democratic party in a worse position than to be compelled to fight a living issue. It always wants to tackle something dead—to match its own strength.

There is no prevailing inclination among the republicans to kick during the coming campaign, unless to kick the democratic party. This may be done and done with vigor.

When Mr. Matthew Arnold was in Galesburg, Illinois, the other day, he mistook a dog for a pig. A man may be a profound thinker and a ripe classical scholar, but very ignorant about some very important things.

Mr. Locke, who formerly lived in Janesville, is to introduce in the New York assembly a bill to tax dealers in spirituous liquors $25 per month, and retailers of malt beverages one half that amount.

E. N. Rowell killed Lynch, of Batavia, New York, three months ago, because the latter invaded his home. Lynch was defenseless in Rowell's wife's bedroom, but the jury returned a verdict that the killing was in self-defense.

As a novelist, the Rev. Dr. John Hall, (Presbyterian,) of New York, is quite successful, and can write as well as he can preach. He is said to receive $20,000 a year salary, besides a house rent free and $5,000 a year for a weekly story from Robert Bonner.

The democrats are squirming considerably in New York. It is the winter of their discontent in dead earnest. The New York Sun, which is bitterly democratic, asks this question:

"What is this republican legislature doing?" It answers in this way:

"Investigating a democratic commissioner of public works in this city.

"Investigating our democratic sheriff.

"Investigating our democratic county clerk.

"Investigating a democratic register who has been in office less than a month.

"We do not notice that any republican office holders are undergoing investigation.

"No wonder the New York republicans are cheerful."

THE COMING STATE CONVENTIONS.

Unless otherwise ordered, there will be two republican state conventions this year—one in May, to elect delegates to the national republican convention which meets in Chicago on the 3d of June, and one in August or September, to nominate candidates for state offices. The suggestion has been made—and it comes from several quarters—that it would be wise to hold the two conventions at one time,—that is, let the one convention elect delegates to the national convention and also nominate a state ticket. The favorable point in this plan is that it would be much more convenient and economical, and would much better suit the agricultural districts, which will have a large representation in the convention.

There will likely be no contest in the republican state convention, regarding a state ticket. It is generally conceded that Governor Rusk and the state officers will be renominated by almost unanimous consent. There is no disposition to change, and this being the case it is argued that it would be perfectly in keeping with wisdom and fairness to hold but one convention. We see no impropriety in this movement. In many respects it would be better to finish up the work at one time. This could be done, under the circumstances, without seeming to forestall public sentiment in regard to who shall be nominated for state offices. Any one who has any special wires to pull or a political ax to grind, may possibly object to an early convention, but it would be difficult, we judge, to bring forward a substantial reason why one convention should not do the work of two.

There will be some opposition to this coming from those whose minds are not quite clear in the dead of winter as to what should be done about a state ticket. They have an idea that between snow and harvest a sentiment may be worked up against the renomination of Lieutenant Governor Fifield, and if that should prove strong enough to defeat him, there would be a general breaking up of the whole ticket. If their opposition to a one convention is chiefly based on the ground that it will defeat some scheme to prevent a renomination of the present state ticket, their position is a very unsafe one.

There may not be very much enthusiasm over the old ticket, but there is a strong feeling—a sentiment deep and very earnest—that the ticket should be renominated, and this being the case there doesn't appear to be any solid reason why one convention should not do the work of two.

A FEW WORDS ON AN OLD SUBJECT.

The country has already heard a good deal about the treachery of Fitz John Porter, and understands pretty well the arguments on both sides of the question. During the past two or three years there has been a change somewhat in public sentiment regarding the treachery of Porter at the second battle of Bull Run. All the democrats in congress and out of congress are in favor of restoring him to his former rank and giving him back pay which will amount to something like $100,000. Some republicans who once were against him are now for him. Those who after careful deliberation and after months of thorough investigation said he ought to have been shot, but with no stronger evidence in Porter's favor now than they had in 1862, they think he ought to be forgiven and paid up in full.

It was once agreed on nearly all hands that Porter should have been shot instead of simply dismissed from the army; and the warm friends of McClellan, who justified Porter in the attempt to sacrifice Pope and his army, regarded the court martial which tried Porter, very merciful because it didn't shoot him.

As this subject is of much importance because a bill will probably pass congress to restore Porter, and as General Grant once thought him a traitor and deserving of death, but now asks congress to restore him to his former rank, we desire to reproduce a few words from the Milwaukee Sentinel regarding the secret history of the case twenty years ago. It shows how firm was the conviction at that time that Fitz John Porter should be shot. The Sentinel says that President Lincoln did not say that the only error made by the court martial was in not ordering Porter shot. The history of that court-martial, as repeated by General Grant, is that the members of the court-martial found Porter guilty and agreed to a sentence of death. Mr. Lincoln, who had asked for information before the proceedings were concluded, was informed that Porter would be shot. Mr. Lincoln then wrote a personal letter to the members of the court, in which he admitted the justice of their finding and the justice of a sentence of death; but he urged them to reconsider their finding, not because of Porter, but out of regard for the condition of the country. He urged that Porter's crime was committed from a spirit of loyalty to McClellan—that he preferred the destruction of Pope's army to the success of any other commander than McClellan. Mr. Lincoln believed that if a general of Porter's prominence should be executed the friends of McClellan in the army of the Potomac would throw down their arms. The members of the court, following Mr. Lincoln's suggestion, dismissed Porter from the army.

But Mr. Lincoln believed Porter guilty; General Grant believed him guilty, nearly every officer in the army who had heard the case believed him guilty, but the wisdom of Lincoln told the country that it would not be best to execute Porter for the reason already given, and he was simply dismissed. His treachery cost a good many lives, and among the 800 who fell dead on the battle field of Bull Run, August 30, 1862, were many from Wisconsin, and Matt Carpenter once said in the senate, that whatever congress might do, Wisconsin would never, while tenderly remembering her heroic dead, ever forgive Fitz John Porter.

Polished Off in Four Rounds.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Feb. 1.—A most brutal fight took place at the Park theatre, between William Sheriff, the "Prussian," and G. W. Sawdry, a local pugilist, in which Sawdry was frightfully punished in four rounds. Marc Christol championed Sawdry, and at 2 o'clock a. m. his saloon was visited by the Perry street gang, six in number, who piled into Christol and hammered him unmercifully. The assault is supposed to have been occasioned by offense given at the pugilistic contest early in the evening. All six have been arrested. Both Sheriff and Sawdry, the pugilists, were arrested as they were starting for the east.

Will Likely Ornament a Rope.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Feb. 1.—A few days ago George Argo was convicted of manslaughter in causing the death of his wife's sister and was sentenced to twenty year's imprisonment. Since his sentence the body of his wife, who died some time before, under suspicious circumstances, was exhumed, and an examination by doctors has revealed arsenic enough in the stomach to preserve the corpse for twenty years. Argo will doubtless be put on trial on the charge of murdering his wife.

Wants to Help the Railway.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 1.—The merchants and manufacturers of this city held a meeting, at which it was recommended that legislature pass an act empowering the city of Baltimore to loan $2,000,000 to the Richmond & Danville Railroad company. The loan is be made for the express purpose of securing and maintaining better railway connections between Baltimore and the southern states.

INTO WHITE RIVER.

Fearful Plunge of a Passenger Train From an Abutment.

Seven Persons Sent to Their Long Home and Eight Wounded---Fire Completes the Horror---Scenes at the Wreck.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 1.—The Chicago & Indianapolis Air-Line division of the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago railroad, known as the Monon route, which has been opened for business only a few weeks, was baptized in fire and blood at Broad Ripple, eight miles north of Indianapolis.

The accommodation train from Monon, due here at 10:30, had made its last stop before reaching Indianapolis, and was just getting under headway when it began to cross the bridge over White river. The train consisted of an engine, baggage and express car, smoking-car and ladies' coach. Conductor W. S. Losey was in charge and John Brenner was engineer. The latter, after leaving the station, however, had gone into the baggage-car for a drink of water, leaving James Nonan, fireman, in charge of the engine. The bridge was of the ordinary Howe truss pattern, consisting of two spans, each 150 feet in length. A speed of about fifteen miles per hour had been attained, and the train had pulled its full length on the bridge, when Nonan felt the baggage-car sinking. He had his hands on the throttle-valve at the moment, and instinctively pulled her wide open. As the engine shot forward the baggage-car plunged downward, and the tender was separated at both ends from its connections, and the engine fairly climbed into a position of safety on the remaining span. The jerk lifted the tender off the rails, and it ran a short distance on the ties and stringers without leaving the bridge. The first break in the bridge occurred directly under the baggage-car, which seemed to be pressed down by some supernatural power, and it dropped like lead into the water below. The smoker forged ahead a few feet and dropped squarely upon the forward cars. The rear coach went down through a second break in the span, and, the channel being choked with the debris of the bridge and of the forward part of the train, all the occupants escaped death. The wreck immediately took fire.

Six formless and almost unrecognizable trunks or other portions of the human body were taken from the smouldering pile. The names of these dead, together with their residences, were: John Brewer, engineer, of Lafayette; J. F. Ricketts, baggage master, of Monon; F. Smith, express messenger, of Madison, Ind.; George Lowry, brakeman, of Buena Vista, Ind.; Thomas Parr, superintendent of bridge repairs, of Delphi, Ind.; John Bray, passenger, of Deming, Ind.; Lyman Clark, passenger, of Westfield, fatally injured.

The injured are: W. P. Hoyk, of Westfield, head badly cut; W. O. Lennon, ex-sheriff of Hamilton county, Indiana, arms and ribs broken; W. T. Swiggart, Carmel, skull fractured, hip dislocated; B. J. White and Charles Parker, bridge-repairers, cut and bruised; Mrs. Sullivan and her baby, wife and child of a section boss, bruised; J. B. Horton, burned and bruised. In all seven dead and eight wounded.

The relief train left this city only thirty minutes after news of the accident was received. The scene at the wreck was horrible. The wreckers formed in line, and buckets of water were rapidly thrown upon the blazing cars and surrounding debris of the bridge, so that the work of recovering the bodies was soon begun. The dead were in the ruins of the smoker, piled one on top of another in deep water. When the car took fire those who had not escaped were speedily consumed or drowned. A skiff was pressed into the service for ferrying the remains to the banks of the river. It was sickening work. Six charred trunks, formless and unrecognizable, were dug from the ruins. The conductor says: "Within five minutes after the train went down it was wrapped in flames. Frightful screams were heard by those standing on the pier, but with no boat or axes we were powerless to render aid, and all we could do was to close our ears and pray for death to relieve our comrades from their agony."

The bridge was nearly new, having been in use less than a year. It broke in two places. A freight train had just passed over, and the men who were repairing one of the spans drew some bolts, but they claim that they had temporary rods and bolts in place, but this is not believed. It will cost about $15,000 to repair the damage.

Another Dynamite Society.

GLASGOW, Feb. 1.—The sheriff of the Island of Mull has concluded his investigations at Tobermory and other places, respecting the existence on that island of a secret society whose object is to destroy buildings and other property with dynamite. The inquiry developed sufficient evidence to justify the arrest of six persons. The papers bearing upon the case have been forwarded to the lord advocate of Scotland, and government prosecution of the prisoners will be instituted immediately.

Another Shortage Discovered.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 1.—Henry Angell, a well-known society young man, son of a prominent politician, and who occupied the position of bookkeeper for the Valley Railway company in this city, is missing. A shortage in his accounts was discovered by the auditor of the road, when Angell returned a part of the money, but being unable to make the balance good and fearing prosecution, he fled.

Damage by Ice.

OIL CITY, Pa., Feb. 1.—The ice in French creek and Oil creek has begun to move out, carrying away Berney & Habel's oil refinery and four oil rigs. The ice is gorged just below Franklin, backing the water up until it filled the basement of the oil exchange. Fears are entertained that the disastrous floods of last February will be repeated. The Allegheny river is still closed three miles above Oil City.

Death of a Cardinal.

ROME, Feb. 1.—Louis Bilio, Cardinal Bishop of Sabina, died in the 88th year of his age. He was a confidential friend of his holiness, Leo XIII., and was by many regarded as the latter's probable successor to the papacy. He had been ill for some time.

Apprehensions Abating.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Feb. 1.—The freeze and cool weather recently have had a welcome effect upon the threatened flood along the Maumee, and now all fears of further damage by high water for the present are abating.

Report Contradicted.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 1.—General Manager Myers, of the Pacific Mutual Telegraph company denies the report that the line has been sold to the Bankers & Merchants' Telegraph company.

In Spite of the Ultramontanes.

BERLIN, Feb. 1.—The lower house of the Prussian diet passed the estimates for public worship—147 to 100—in spite of the opposition of the Ultramontane party.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: In the fall of 1876 I was taken with bleeding of lungs followed by a severe cough. I lost my appetite and flesh, and was confined to my bed. In 1877 I was admitted to the hospital. The doctors said I had a hole in my lung as big as a half dollar. At one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of DR. WILLIAM HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I got a bottle, when to my surprise, I commenced to feel better, and to-day I feel better than for three years past.

"NONE WHATEVER."

Robert Garrett Comments on Some Recent Remarks of Jay Gould.

Reflections On the Western Union System of Stock Watering---Some Errors Corrected---Other Telegraphic News.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 1.—Mr. Robert Garrett's attention was called to a special telegram from New York stating that Mr. Jay Gould, when asked if the new additions to the Baltimore & Ohio lines would have any effect upon the Western Union, stated: "None whatever," and also expressed the opinion that the Nickel-Plate telegraph lines did not pay expenses, and that in fact the Baltimore & Ohio people would get nothing for their money. Mr. Garrett said he was rather surprised to see Mr. Gould depreciating good properties at this time, especially as he had been very recently in the market as a bidder for the Nickel-Plate line and prepared to pay a large sum for it. "Now," said Mr. Garrett, "I am very glad to get an opportunity to say a few things to you about telegraph properties in this country. I was asked by Mr. Gould to become a director in the Atlantic & Pacific property, and before deciding not to become one, I went carefully over the books of that concern, and it will probably surprise the public to know that the total amount of cash put into the Atlantic & Pacific by Gould and his friends was less than a million of dollars. Mr. Gould afterward sold this property to the Western Union for, I believe, $9,000,000. I did later on become a director in the American Union Telegraph company. This property cost, I believe, about $4,000,000, although some additional sums in money have been turned over to the Western Union when it purchased the American Union company for $15,000,000, and upon the acquisition of these two most valuable properties, an extra dividend of $15,000,000 of Western Union stock was declared. In other words, about $40,000,000 of Western Union capital to-day is represented by a cash expenditure of $5,000,000. Mr. Gould," continued Mr. Garrett, "stated when the Atlantic & Pacific was started through his agency, that the Western Union telegraph was the most vulnerable property in the United States. Later on Mr. Gould said a mistake had been made about the Atlantic & Pacific lines, that they were inferior and for this reason he had sold out, but at a price which put Western Union in a still more vulnerable position than it ever was before. It was vulnerable and proved to be so, for by the expenditure of $4,000,000, Mr. Gould added about $31,000,000 additional to the stock of Western Union. I do not understand how to-day, after a lapse of a very brief period, even allowing considerably for the growth of telegraph business in this country, the Western Union is, as Mr. Gould says, the strongest telegraph company in the world. Seventy-five per cent. of the entire business of the Western Union is to-day, or in a very short time will be, subject to our active competition."

In conclusion, Mr. Garrett added that Mr. Gould notified the Baltimore & Ohio company two years ago that if they entered the field for telegraph business, he would punish them. "He did not succeed," said Mr. Garrett, "in punishing us, but we have no feeling in the matter. Our only desire is to enter the field fairly and Mr. Gould should be happy in getting so conservative a competitor."

Still They Come.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 1.—A certificate of incorporation has been filed in the record office here by Robert Garrett, William Keyser and others of the Globe Telephone company, with a capital stock of $1,000,000. The company is formed for the construction of telegraph and telephone lines.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 1.—Daniel J. McLorraine, traffic chief of the Western Union Telegraph company, in Philadelphia, has resigned to accept the position of chief operator in this city for the Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph company.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Samuel S. Bogart, who has for about fourteen years had charge of all the wires and submarine and aerial cables of the Western Union Telegraph company in New York city, has left the service of that company to accept a position in the service of the Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph company.

Looking for a Cut.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 1.—The Western Union employes, both in this city and Indianapolis, apprehend a 10 per cent. cut in their wages, to take effect immediately.

ELEVATORS BURNED.

Toronto, Canada, Reports a $250,000 Fire.

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 1.—Two of the largest elevators in Toronto were totally destroyed by fire with their contents. Adamson's elevator contained $100,000 worth of wheat and 45,000 bushels of barley and peas, valued at $100,000. The building was valued at $50,000. The flames spread with amazing rapidity to an adjoining pier, firing it, with Chapman & Son's elevator; this contained 30,000 bushels of grain and was insured for $18,000, the building cost $12,000. The principal sufferers are A. Delaporte, Taylor & Oates, Crane & Baird, John McKay & Co., and J. Sproule & Slator. The total loss is over a quarter of a million dollars.

Irish News.

CORK, Feb. 1.—It is reported that Sir Gerald Fitzgerald, justice of the peace and member of the local marine board, has been removed from the last named position at the instance of Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, president of the board of trade. Sir Gerald was conspicuously active on the occasion of the recent Royalist meeting at Dublin, and conducted the proceedings of the overflow meeting.

Athlophoros

ATHLOPHOROS is a novel word to most people who speak the English language. The Greeks used it centuries ago, meaning by it "THE PRIZE-BEARER."

ATHLOPHOROS is the first and only medicine which has carried off the prize as the perfect remedy for Rheumatism and Neuralgia.

Like two relentless tyrants they have for ages held their suffering victims in an iron grip. These poor sufferers have been as slaves in the power of their oppressors.

ATHLOPHOROS has entered the arena, engaged in conflict with the monsters, and won the victory. As the competitors in the Grecian games of old could win only by the most severe trials of ability and endurance, so ATHLOPHOROS has won the prize, not alone by giving temporary relief, but by bringing an enduring cure, as well, to those who have suffered the excruciating agonies of Rheumatism and Neuralgia.

ATHLOPHOROS is a novelty, not only in name, but in its elements. It is unlike any preparation yet introduced.

ATHLOPHOROS acts on the blood, muscles and joints, removing the poison and acid from the blood, carries them out of the system.

ATHLOPHOROS is put up with consummate skill, and contains nothing that can possibly harm the most delicate constitution.

Now, do you want to suffer on and on? or do you want to be well?

"Athlophoros" WILL Cure You

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed.

Passage of the First of the Land Grant Forfeiture Bills.

The Texas Pacific the One to Suffer --A Bill for Horrizontal Tariff Reduction Ready--News Items.

WASHINGTON CITY, Feb. 1.—Congress has given an assurance of its intention with reference to all lapsed land grants by quickly disposing of the batch of grants to southern roads and resisting a strong appeal from representatives of the state of Mississippi to except the gulf and Ship Island grant from the wholesale declaration of forfeiture. They admitted that the terms of the grant had not been complied with and asked exemption from forfeiture upon the ground that the intervention of the war, followed by several years of disorder, prevented compliance with the terms. Their appeal made an impression upon a few southern men, but the majority against them was overwhelming. The Texas Pacific grant, in which case Judge Payson had made an able report, giving the reason for restoring the land to the public domain, was passed without debate, and with only one dissenting vote. The dessenter was Barr, of Pennsylvania, a personal and political friend of the late Tom Scott, of the Pennsylvania road. The vote on this forfeiture bill was recorded, so that every man might be able to show his record, but it was observed that not a few dodged when their name were called. The public lands committee is gratified at the sweeping success of its first efforts to get back the squandered millions of acres.

Congressional Summary.

WASHINGTON CITY, Feb. 1.—The senate chamber is being flooded with petitions for a prohibitory liquor law for the territories and the District of Columbia. Bills were introduced to pay employes of the government the wages withheld in violation of the eight-hour law, and to relieve commercial travelers from license taxes. Sewell reported a bill providing that no regimental or company officer shall be detached for more than three consecutive years. Mr. Coke presented a joint resolution from the legislature of Texas urging the improvement of Galveston harbor in the manner proposed by Capt. Eads. A communication from the attorney general stated that his clerical force was insufficient to supply the papers called for by congress. An adjournment to Monday was taken.

The house of representatives adopted a resolution asking the secretary of the interior to explain by what authority 189,000 acres of land were certified to the state of Kansas for the benefit of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe road. The bill forfeiting lands granted to the Texas & Pacific Railroad company was passed by a vote of 206 to 1. A message from the president was received transmitting the report of the secretary of state in regard to the restriction of American hog products by Germany and France.

Tariff Matters.

WASHINGTON CITY, Feb. 1.—It is said on good authority that a majority of the ways and means committee has virtually decided to support a tariff bill, which provides for a horizontal reduction of 20 per cent. in present tariff rates, and that the present intention is to present the bill to the house on Monday next. It appears that the Democratic leader of the house, some time ago, decided not to agitate the tariff question until the latter part of February, but tariff reformers are said to have since concluded that it would be impolitic to defer action until that time, and are therefore inclined to take advantage of the first opportunity to present a bill. The naval appropriation bills will probably be ready to submit to the house on Monday, and it is thought that Randall will antagonize any tariff measure by reporting that bill and asking for its immediate consideration. Several other appropriation bills can be gotten ready for submission to the house in a very short time, and should this be done tariff reform measures will probably go to the wall until some of the appropriation bills are passed.

A Matter of Tea.

WASHINGTON CITY, Feb. 1.—Mr. James R. Davies, United States examiner of teas for the port of New York, appeared before a sub-committee of the committee on ways and means in advocacy of the passage of a bill amendatory of the act of March 2, 1883. Samples of teas condemned by the examiner were exhibited and reasons given showing the advantage of the proposed amendment. The sub-committee agreed to make a favorable report to the full committee on the bill prosposed by Secretary Folger making the law more stringent respecting adulterated teas and enlarging the powers of the examiners.

The Mexican Treaty.

WASHINGTON CITY, Feb. 1.—The Mexican minister has prepared an answer to the objections made in the senate to the Mexican treaty. The document has been considered by the cabinet and will be sent to the senate next week.

News Notes.

WASHINGTON CITY, Feb. 1.—Representative Belmont has proposed a resolution directing the judiciary committee to report whether congress has the power to regulate commerce with foreign nations by imposing federal inspection laws on American pork destined for exportation, and whether any state may not require the inspection and marking of hog products by state officers.

The house committee on public lands has decided to report a bill to forfeit 1,280,000 acres of land between Astoria and Portland granted to the Oregon Central road.

Senator Mahone has secured for his son the post of distributing clerk in the office of the secretary of the senate, ousting Maj. Gilman, correspondent of The Richmond Dispatch.

Inspector B. H. Lanier, of Louisiana, has been dismissed from the postal service for failing to account for funds coming into his hands.

The Newfoundland sealing steamer Bear has been purchased by the United States government for the Greely relief expedition.

Of 5,000 bills introduced in the house of representatives, this session, 1,400 are for pensions.

The treasury officials estimate the reduction in the public debt for January at $11,500,000

Held Under Charge.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 1.—In the case of Charles H. and J. H. Unverzagt, charged with unlawfully using the United States mails for sending circulars of an alleged bogus insurance company, Commissioner Rogers dismissed the charge against the latter and held Charles H. for the action of the grand jury.

Just Ten Per Cent.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Feb. 1.—The jury in the case of Nathan Clark against the Brooklyn City Railroad company, brought in a verdict of $2,500 damages for a fractured leg. The suit was for $25,000.

The disagreeable operation of forcing iquids into the head, and the use of exciting snuffs, are being superseded by Ely's Cream Balm, a cure for Catarrh, Colds in the head and Hay Fever. Price 50 cents.

Only Two Bottles.

Messrs. Johnston, Holloway & Co. wholesale druggists of Philadelphia, Pa., report that some time ago a gentleman handed them a dollar, with a request to send a good catarrh cure to two army officers in Arizona. Recently the same gentleman told them that both the officers and the wife of a well-known U. S. A. general had been cured of Catarrh by the two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm.

KENTUCKY DEMOCRATS

Develop a Marked Inclination to Make a Senator of Carlisle.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 1.—There was a continuance of disorder in the Democratic caucus. Motions to change the manner and time of dropping the hindmost candidate were made, amended, and lost amid much discussion. Senator Hallam asked, as a friend of Carlisle, that that gentleman's name be withdrawn since it had been offered without Carlisle's consent. He said Carlisle did not wish to be a party to such a contest. Harcourt, who made the nomination, said Carlisle, he believed, at the time, was the only man who could be elected. He believed it more strongly now. Chairman Robbins called Jackson to preside, and said from the floor that he had come as an avowed Carlisle man, but upon studying Carlisle's sentiments in the matter had supported Blackburn. He said Carlisle owed his speakership to Blackburn. A point of order was made against the speaker. Here a row of seats in the gallery fell and bedlam broke loose. Robbins continuing said he thought his speech was relevant, especially as his private correspondence had been used to stab Blackburn in the back. Wells, a Williams man, said every man, woman and child, white and black, in his county, including himself, was for Carlisle for anything he wanted. Half of Kentucky expected to hear of his nomination. Representative Barnham, Williams' man, said Carlisle's election as senator would make him to the national Democracy what Garfield was to the western reserve. He was sure Carlisle would be nominated by this caucus and in another year would be president. Talbott urged Carlisle's withdrawal, but must vote for him. Hallam said if he should vote against Carlisle he could not again set foot in Kentucky, but if Carlisle was named and another nominated, it would be a blow from which Carlisle would never recover. Carlisle, if named, should be elected promptly and unanimously. Adjourned.

EGYPTIAN MATTERS.

News from the Outposts Along the Nile---Gen. Gordon.

CAIRO, Feb. 1.—The sanitary reforms proposed by Mr. Clifford Lloyd, under secretary of the interior, have been rejected by the government.

Gen. Gordon telegraphed from Assouan to the garrison at Khartoum the following dispatch: "Remember that you are men, not women. Be not afraid; I am coming."

Dispatches received from Baker Pasha state that on January 22 his command engaged in a skirmish with the outposts of the rebels near Tokar. The Turkish element in Baker's army behaved shamefully, showing cowardice. On January 24 another skirmish ensued, in which the rebels lost ground. Baker, with 3,750 men, intends to attack Tokar, and though opposed by 20,000 men, expressed himself confident of success.

Gen. Gordon has written to El Mahdi requesting him to send his European prisoners to Khartoum.

Towfik Bey has conveyed word from Sinkat that unless his garrison is relieved he will be obliged to sally out, the means of subsistence being completely exhausted. The garrison has eaten every animal, even every dog, in the town, and have only some horse skins and one bag of barley left.

Information has been received that on January 19 Towfik Bey attacked the besiegers of Sinkat and inflicted severe losses upon them. His own loss was nineteen killed and fifty wounded.

Gen. Gordon has telegraphed here that Shakoor, the new sultan of Darfour, is a drunken boy of no decided character.

Prosecution Dismissed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—The charge of embezzlement of $20,000 from the state funds preferred against Charles D. Bunker, ex-commissioner of emigration, has been dismissed at the request of the prosecution, on motion of Attorney General Marshall. Lack of sufficient evidence to insure his conviction is the reason assigned for this unexpected termination of the case. Bunker is a well known politician, as well as a leader in society circles, and his trial has created a sensation on the coast.

Workingmen Arrested.

TROY, N. Y., Feb. 1.—Seven arrests have been made here of men; some of whom are connected with the moulder's union. No charge has been formulated, the police authorities having simply issued an order to arrest all persons connected with a patrol established near the Malleable Iron works. The union moulders say that the arrests are illegal and they will maintain their rights in the courts. The Standard states that the arrests are an outrage, as no offense can be proved on the part of those taken into custody.

The Canadian Pacific.

OTTAWA, Feb. 1.—Parliament will be asked to loan the Canadian Pacific company any amount of money not exceeding $22,500,000, to be repaid on or before May 1st, 1891, with interest at 5 per cent. per annum, payable half yearly, until the payment of the principal, and that as a part of the said loan, the government may pay to the company forthwith such amount not exceeding $7,500,000, as required by the company to extinguish the present floating debt.

An Enterprize Nipped.

HYDE PARK, Mass., Feb. 1.—James Rice and C. J. Russell, who were discovered while attempting to open a safe in Carter's store, have been held in $5,000 and $4,000 bail respectively. If this robbery proved successful, it was their intention to repeat the operation in other stores. Several burglaries have taken place here recently, and it is now supposed that they were concerned in them. Both are connected with first-class families. Price is 16 years of age and Russell 20 years.

Encountered a Land Slide.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 1.—The early passenger train, due from Chattanooga, over the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad, encountered a land slide seven miles west of Chattanooga. The land slide came from Raccoon mountain, a distance of one-half mile. It swept everything in its course. The engineer and conductor were seriously injured.

Says He Is All Right.

TITUSVILLE, Pa., Feb. 1.—Stunbaker, the alleged forger, who was captured at Sugar Creek, was taken to Meadville, and while en route from there to Oil City jumped from the train, but after a hot chase was recaptured. He has arrived here in custody. He claims that his name is Studebaker, and that he can make everything all right. The money was nearly all recovered.

Costly Ejectment.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 1.—In the case of John W. Rice against the Philadelphia, Wilmington & Baltimore Railroad company for being ejected from a train on the road recently, the jury gave a verdict of $2,000 damages for the plaintiff.

Stringent Anti-Socialist Laws.

VIENNA, Feb. 1.—The government has gazetted stringent anti-socialist laws, which are to operate in and around Vienna. These laws prescribe a rigorous press censorship, and in the Vienna and Kornenberg districts suspend the right of trial by jury.

A Special Study for Years.
Dr. F. B. BREWER
Has made Chronic Diseases of the Throat, Lungs, Heart, Stomach Liver, Kidneys, Nerves and Blood.

A special treatment for years. He is not a boastful, ignorant pretender, but an educated physician, seeking to do good, by devoting his talent and energies to the treatment of a class of maladies that have been with him a long and patient study. To be able to treat successfully chronic diseases it requires that a physician should be a sound, thorough scholar in the art of science and medicine generally. He should give his entire time to their study, be thorough in his investigations and have a long and varied experience. Dr. Brewer claims to work no wonders or to do any more than any well educated physician can do, who devotes his whole time to the study and treatment of chronic diseases exclusively, and has had his many years of experience. For years Dr. Brewer has visited the the places he now visits, and has obtained his reputation by being honest in his dealings, candid in opinions and reasonable in his charges. Those who are afflicted are invited to call, investigate and decide for themselves. It will cost nothing to do so. Address all letters to

COUNTY GOVERNMENT.

Adjourned Annual Session of 1883.

[Concluded.]

Resolved by the Board of Supervisors of Rock County:

That the committee on public buildings and the committee on charitable and penal institutions, are hereby authorized to act in conjunction until the organization of the incoming county board.

Adopted.

Mr. Menzies presented the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Resolved by the Rock County Board of Supervisors, That W. J. McIntyre be and is hereby authorized and instructed to furnish the family of Patrick Connelly, who reside in the village of Whitewater (but who claim to be residents in this county) with necessary provisions for their support so long as they continue to reside in the village of Whitewater, and continue to be a public charge to Rock county.

Adopted.

Mr. Nelson, from committee No. 1, presented the following reports, and moved their adoption:

To the Board of Supervisors of Rock County:

The committee on illegal taxes and tax certificates, to whom was referred tax certificate No. 8 issued by Willis Miles, treasurer of Rock county on the 11th day of May, 1882, to Wm. Macloon, for the sum of $2.57, would respectfully report that the description in said certificate is imperfect.

We therefore recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the clerk of Rock county be and is hereby ordered to cancel certificate No. 8, issued to Wm. Macloon for $2.57 on the 11th day of May, 1880, and draw his order on the treasurer of Rock county in favor of the holder of said certificate for said amount with interest thereon from the date of said certificate until the day of cancellation, and charge the amount of said order back to the town of Avon.

JAMES MENZIES,
H. G. NELSON,
Committee.

Also: The committee on illegal taxes and tax certificates to whom was referred the communication of Fred Leiphin, of Indian Ford, in regard to purchasing lot 1, block 7, of the village of Fulton Center which belongs to Rock county, would report that they have conferred with Mr. Brace, the member from Fulton, who states that from the best information he can obtain this lot is not worth more than $8 or $10. We therefore recommend that the county sell Mr. Leiphin said lot at public sale.

JAMES MENZIES,
H. G. NELSON,
Committee.

Reports adopted. Ayes, 29; noes, 0.

Mr. Menzies, from committee No. 1, presented the following report and moved its adoption:

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Rock County:

Your committee No. 1, to whom was referred the petition of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway company for the cancellation of the assessment and taxes mentioned in said petition, do respectfully report that after an examination of the matter referred to in said petition, they find and report that the lots and lands described in said petition were on and prior to the first day of May, 1883, and now is owned by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway company, and that the said lots on and prior to the said first day of May, 1883, was and now is necessarily used by said company as the depot grounds in said city of Beloit, that said lots then were and still are exempt from taxation, that the assessment of said lots for 1883 was illegal, that the taxes levied on said lots were and are illegal, and that such assessment, and the levy of said taxes on said lots should be cancelled, and that when the return is made by the treasurer of the city of Beloit, the amount of the taxes levied upon said lots should be charged back to the said city of Beloit.

We therefore recommend the adoption of the following order:

"In the matter of the application of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway company for the cancelation of taxes levied upon the depot grounds of said company at the city of Beloit in the county of Rock."

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway company having presented to this board its petition in and by which it appears that on the 1st day of May, 1883, said company was and still is the owner of the lots of land hereinafter described occupying and using the same as depot grounds for the purpose of its business, and said petition having been referred to the committee on tax certificates and illegal taxes, and said committee having reported that said assessments and levy of taxes mentioned in said petition are illegal, and should be canceled, therefore, it is ordered that the assessments of lots 57, 58, 60, 10, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, and 114, in Goodhue's subdivision of blocks in the city of Beloit, in said county for the year 1883, be and the same is hereby canceled and set aside, and the treasurer of said county is hereby directed to omit said lots from his notice of the sale of lands for delinquent taxes for said year 1883, and that he do not offer said lots on sale for delinquent taxes for said year, and when the return of said taxes is made by the treasurer of the city of Beloit, the treasurer of said county is hereby directed to charge the amount of the taxes so levied upon said lots for the year 1883 back to the city of Beloit.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JAMES MENZIES,
H. G. NELSON,
Committee.

Report adopted and order passed.

Mr. Sheldon moved that an appropriation of $500 be made (as cash advanced) to C. L. Valentine to apply on contract for making county abstract of Rock county, and an order drawn on the county treasurer for the amount.

Adopted, and the appropriation made.

Ayes—28.
Noes—1.

All the members present voting aye except Mr. Broughton he voting no.

On motion of Mr. Gardiner the board adjourned until 1:30 o'clock p. m.

Afternoon session.
1:30 o'clock p. m.
Board met.
Chairman in the chair.
The clerk called the roll.
Quorum present.

Mr. Gardiner presented the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Resolved, by the Board of Supervisors of Rock County:

That the county treasurer is hereby authorized and instructed to demand, when necessary, of the towns, villages and cities of this county, granting licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors the sum of fifty dollars on every such retail license granted for the year 1883, and in all cases when payment so demanded is refused the district attorney is hereby authorized in his discretion to employ any legal means for the collection of amounts as above stated.

Resolution adopted.

Mr. Dunn presented the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the sum of $10.00 is hereby appropriated to the chairman of this board for [illegible] county treasurer for the amount.

The clerk put the question, and the resolution was adopted, and the appropriation made.

Ayes—28.
Noes—0.

Mr. Burdick presented the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Resolved, 1st, That committee No. 13 are hereby directed to make at least quarterly visits of inspection of the charitable and penal institutions of Rock county, to thoroughly inspect the same and report the result of their investigations to the county board whenever it may be in session.

2d. That they are required to make an inventory of all personal property belonging to Rock county, "belonging to or connected with the above institutions sometime during the month of December, of each year, and report the same at the next meeting of the board.

3d. They shall report to the county board of supervisors as often as said board may require, and at every annual meeting thereof, the condition and wants of the Rock county charitable and penal institution, and give a full and detailed statement of all receipts and expenditures of said institutions and all facts concerning the management and administration of the same.

4th. That when the county board is not in session the superintendents of the poor shall, whenever necessary, consult with said committee and be governed by their advice and instructions.

Resolution adopted.

It now being 2:15 o'clock p. m., and there being a special order for 2:30 o'clock,

On motion of Mr. Aller the board took a recess until that hour.

2:30 o'clock p. m. The board reconvened, and the special order for this hour being the consideration of the report of committee No. 1, on the matter of assessment of the personal property of E. D. Kelly, in both of the towns of Harmony and Milton, was called up by the chair.

District Attorney Sale appeared before the board and gave his legal opinion in regard to the matter in issue, contained in the report, and from his version of the law, no direct result could be attained applicable to this case.

The vote being taken, the report and resolution was adopted by the following vote:

Messrs. Aller, Ames, Bruce, Burdge, Burdick, Carle, Colley, Eager, Gardner, Kimball, Menzies, Merrill, Nelson, Nye, Parham, Sheldon, Shuck, Steward, Stoney, Thos. Ward, voting aye—21.

Messrs. Brownell, Broughton, Dunn, McIntyre, Greenman, voting no—5.

Mr. Menzies presented the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the members of this board tender a vote of thanks to their chairman, Mr. Greenman, for the able, impartial and gentlemanly manner in which he has presided over their deliberations for the past year.

The clerk put the question, and the resolution was unanimously adopted.

The chairman responded briefly and very appropriately.

Mr. Ward presented the following resolution, and moved its adoption:

Resolved by the Rock County Board of Supervisors: That the sum of seven dollars is hereby appropriated to each one of the committee on claims, as compensation for extra work performed by them.

Adopted and the appropriation made. Ayes, 24; noes, 0.

Mr. McIntyre presented the following resolution, and moved its adoption:

Whereas, It has been the practice of persons having claims against Rock county to not file such claims with the county clerk until the annual meeting of said board has already convened, thereby rendering it impossible to properly examine and adjust said claims, in order that more time may be had in the examination of such claims. Therefore be it

Resolved by this Board of Supervisors, That all persons having claims against the aforesaid county, are hereby requested to file such claims with the county clerk at least one week before the annual meeting of said board, and one week before each adjourned meeting; and that the county clerk be directed to publish a notice of this action previous to each meeting of this board in one or more of the county papers.

Adopted.

The clerk then read the per diem and milage of members, as follows:

Pneumonia Prevented.

Oyster Bay, Queens county, New York, April 11, 1883. I believe I have been saved from a terrible illness by ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.

About a month ago I was attacked with a violent pain in my chest, accompanied by fever and great difficulty in breathing. I apprehended pneumonia, which is so prevalent at present; I went to bed and I applied one Allcock's Plaster between my shoulder blades and two on my chest. In an hour my breathing was much easier, in two hours the pain had left me and the next morning I awoke perfectly free from fever. I went about my business as usual, and at the end of a week took the plasters off.

For the last ten years Allcock's Plasters have been used by my family with the best effect in colds, coughs, and pain in the side and back.

E. B. SHERWOOD.

Be sure to obtain "Allcock's" Porous Plaster, as all others are worthless imitations.

A Boston Girl Becomes Interesting

[Croffut's Letter.]

I heard a good Boston story yesterday—that is, a story of a Boston family who moved here two months ago. They take The Transcript. The mother is a brilliant talker, but the oldest daughter, a girl of 18, is rather unresponsive in general society. "Why don't you read up, Kate?" her mother said to her when some callers had gone; "take The Transcript every day and go through it thoroughly. Read the news. Read everything. You'll find enough to talk about. Be posted. Don't sit like a dummy!" The next day on the approach of visitors the poor girl seized The Transcript and fled to her room. There for an hour she pored over it, becoming every minute more and more vexed and horror-struck to find that there was no food for intellectual conversation in it—nothing, in fact, except long columns of figures about Butler's defeat. At last her mother sent for her to come down and not be so rude. Distracted and hysterical, the girl rushed downstairs to the parlor, red-eyed and dishevelled, Transcript in hand, and astonished the guests by bursting out, "I can't find anything in The Transcript! I hate the paper! There isn't a thing in it! Not a word to—to talk about! Not a word but these horrible figures about Butler! I hate Butler!" Her mother tried to soothe her disordered nerves by inducing her to retire to the dining-room and eat a little cake and cheese, explaining to the guests that Katie was hungry and tired. "I don't want to!" She again exploded: "You know I hate cheese!" For the first time the Boston girl succeeded in becoming thoroughly interesting.

The Northern Pacific Clock.

[Chicago Times.]

A clock, the case of which was made from a piece of the last tie of the Northern Pacific railroad, which was laid in the Rocky mountains last September, was recently completed by a New Haven, Conn., clock company for Mr. Bridgman. The clock was designed for a present to ex-President Villard, and was sent to him last week. The rough, irregular piece of wood had been polished into a neat block before the work of ornamentation was begun. It was then placed on a silver base with gold rim and bars to represent a yard. On the side of the case was a small bear, and on the other an elk. Across the front were the words, "Blessed is the tie that binds," and on the dial was the quotation "Finis coronat opus." A miniature gold engine surmounted the case, standing on a slightly projecting platform. "To Henry Villard, from Henry L. Bridgman," was the inscription on the back of the clock. The value of it is about $100.

Polishing the Wrong End.

Many men daily polish their boots who never give a thought to the condition of their hair, except to harrow it casually with brush and comb, or submit it to the paralyzing attention of the average barber. What happens? Why, this: From neglect, mental anxiety, or any of a score of causes, the hair turns prematurely gray and begins to fall out. Parker's Hair Balsam will at once stop the latter process and restore the original color. An elegant dressing, free from grease.

Constitutional or scrofulous catarrh, scrofulous sore eyes, etc., surely cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

A FAT WOMAN

In Consultation With Her Physician and His Common-Sense Prescription.

[Dio Lewis' Monthly.]

"I have called to consult you about the strangest thing in the world. I will tell you all. I am 23 years old. When I was 19 I weighed 122 pounds; now I weigh 240. I am all filling up with fat. I can hardly breathe. The best young men that ever lived loves me, and has been on the point of asking me to marry him, but of course he sees I am growing worse all the time, and he don't dare to venture. I can't blame him. He is the noblest man in the world, and could marry any one he chooses. I don't blame him for not wishing to unite himself to such a great tub as I am. Why, doctor, you don't know how fat I am. I am a sight to behold. And now I have come to see if anything can be done. I know you have studied up all sorts of curious subjects, and I thought you might be able to tell me how to get rid of this dreadful curse."

She had been talking faster and faster, and with more and more feeling (after the manner of fat women, who are always emotional), until she broke down in hysterical sobs.

I gave her the following instructions and told her to call again in a week:

1. For breakfast eat a piece of beef or mutton as large as your hand, with a slice of white bread twice as large. For dinner the same amount of meat, or, if preferred, fish or poultry, with the same amount of farinaceous or vegetable food in the form of bread or potato. For supper, nothing.

2. Drink only when greatly annoyed with thirst; then a mouthful of lemonade without sugar.

3. Take three times a week some form of bath, in which there shall be immense perspiration. The Turkish bath is best. You must work, either in walking or some other way, several hours a day.

"But, doctor, I can't walk; my feet are sore."

"I thought that might be the case, but if the soles of your shoes are four inches broad, and are thick and strong, walking will not hurt your feet. You must walk or work until you perspire freely, every day of the week. Of course, you are in delicate health, with little endurance, but, as you have told me that you are willing to do anything, you are to work hard at something six or seven hours every day."

4. You must rise early in the morning, and retire late at night. Much sleep fattens people.

5. The terrible corset you have on, which compresses the centre of the body, making you look a good deal fatter than you really are, must be taken off, and you must have a corset which any dressmaker can fit to you—a corset for the lower part of the abdomen, which will raise this great mass and support it.

"This is all the advice I have to give you at present. At first you will lose half a pound a day. In the first three months you will lose from twenty to thirty pounds. In six months, forty pounds. You will constantly improve in health, get over this excessive emotion, and be much stronger. Every one knows that a very fat horse weighing 1,200 pounds, can be quickly reduced to 1,000 pounds with great improvement to activity and health. It is still easier with a human being. That you may know exactly what is being done, I wish you to be weighed; write the figures in your memorandum, and one week from now, when you come again, weigh yourself and tell me how much you have lost."

I happened to be out of the city and did not see her until her second visit, two weeks from our last meeting. It was plain when she entered that already her system was being toned up, and when we were again in my private office, she said:

"I have lost six and a half pounds; not quite as much as you told me, but I am delighted, though nearly starved. I have done exactly as you prescribed, and shall continue to, if it kills me. You must be very careful not to make any mistakes, for I shall do just as you say. At first the thirst was dreadful, I thought I could not bear it. But now I have very little trouble with that."

As the wedding day approached she brought the figures 152 on a card, and exclaimed, with her blue eyes running over:

"I am the happiest girl in the world, and don't you think I have honestly earned it? I think I am a great deal happier than I should have been if I had not worked for it."

The papers said the bride was beautiful. I thought she was, and I suppose no one but herself and husband felt as much interested in that beauty as I did. I took a sort of scientific interest in it.

Legal Acumen of a 4-Year-Old.

[Hartford Times.]

A boy that evidently has in him the promise of a character, lives in South Manchester. He is but 4 years old, but he has views of his own. Last summer, dressed in the feminine frock that is used for all children of tender age, he wandered to his uncle's, and spied in the garden some violets that he suddenly wanted. But he approached the subject in a tentative, politic way. He asked his uncle "if he knew" the flowers were out there. "Yes," the uncle said, "I planted them there; would you like to have some of them?" "I don't care if I do," was the infant's slow and unlooked-for answer. "Don't care if you do! Well, I never give flowers to boys that 'don't care' for them." The infant terrible was not to be balked or baffled, or even driven from his ground. He astonished his uncle with a lawyer-like discrimination in vindicating his attitude by deliberately making this answer: "I don't care if I do, but I do care if I don't!" He got the violets.

A Fair Offer.

The Voltaic Belt company, Marshall, Mich., offer to send Dr. Dye's Voltaic Belt and Appliances on trial, for trial for thirty days, to men, young or old, afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality, and kindred troubles. See advertisement in this paper

To the Children, Greeting

We are going to make a proposition to you. We have got up two new kinds of BISCUIT, or CAKE. One kind we call NEW ENGLAND CHICKENS. You will find them very good. The other is a most delicious, soft Fruit Cake; we call it CITRON CAKE. It is entirely new to this country, being of German origin.

Now, what we propose is this: To the one who will make and send to us the closest guess of the number of NEW ENGLAND CHICKENS we shall sell between now, and the 1st day of March, 1884, we will give a beautiful DIAMOND RING; and for the best guess on the number of CITRON CAKES, we will give as a Prize an elegant DIAMOND BREAST-PIN. In case two, or more persons should make the same guess, and it prove to be the winning one, the prizes will be duplicated.

The goods will be packed in boxes, each containing eight CITRON CAKES or twelve NEW ENGLAND CHICKENS. In each box will be found a coupon, which will entitle the holder to one guess. In making your guesses, remember, it will not be the number of boxes, but the number of CHICKENS or individual CAKES which will be counted.

In order to give you an idea of what we may do, we will mention that when we started the famous Jumbo BISCUIT, during the first six months we sold upwards of 19,000,000 of them. As large as our facilities were then, we could not supply the demand. Since then, however, we have largely increased our capacity, and hope to fill all orders promptly.

The competition will be strictly fair. Every guess must have signature and address attached, and must include all orders dated previous to the 1st day of March, when the account will be made up.

All communications, address to F. A. KENNEDY & CO., 14 South Desplaines Street, Chicago, Ill.

Our senior partner, now in Europe, will personally select and bring home these gems, and you may rest assured they will be rich and beautiful.

Wishing you all a very Merry Christmas, and dozens of Happy New Years, we remain, with kind regards, sincerely yours,

F. A. KENNEDY & CO.

The Emperor Louis Napoleon smoked only the finest cigars the world could produce. Prof. Horsford says the Emperor's cigars were made specially for him in Havana from leaf tobacco grown in the Golden Belt of North Carolina, this being the finest leaf grown. Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco is made from the same leaf used in the Emperor's cigars, is absolutely pure and is unquestionably the best tobacco ever offered.

Thackeray's gifted daughter, Anne, in her sketch of Alfred Tennyson, in Harper's Monthly, tells of her visit to the great poet. She found him smoking Blackwell's Bull Durham Tobacco, sent him by Hon. James Russell Lowell, American Minister to the Court of St. James.

In these days of adulteration, it is a comfort to smokers to know that the Bull Durham brand is absolutely pure, and made from the best tobacco the world produces.

Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco is the best and purest made. All dealers have it. None genuine without the trade-mark of the Bull.

The Experiences of Others.

Our article in last evening's Gazette, concerning the tardiness of boys in our public schools, created considerable discussion last evening, and many little incidents in the school days of the different parties were told.

One party, an ex-school commissioner related his experience in trying to deceive his parents regarding his teaching's treatment. He was about seven or eight years old, and was attending school in the little Brick school house near the residence of A. W. Parker, when Mr. Spafford was teaching; he did not like Spafford, and tried everyway to deceive and bother him; the teacher, as a punishment, kept him in during recess, and after school, which so worried him that he told his father of his cruel treatment, and that he did not wish to attend school any longer. The father thought the boy had been wrongfully dealt with—he was a good little boy—always attended Sunday school and stood well in his class—did not slide down hill on Sunday, or go in swimming on Sunday in summer time, but attended church regularly—the old man had confidence in the truthfulness of his darling boy; told him if Spafford kept him in during recess or after school again he could come home and and not go to school any more. This satisfied the boy, and he went back to school confident that he would beat Spafford, against whom he held a youthful grudge. The boy's father took occasion to see the teacher and make all things right. One, two, and three days flew by and the boy was not detained; finally a week closed, and the boy began to think that a change had taken place in Spafford's discipline, as he had not been detained from recess during that time. He became impatient, and started in with the new week, confident that he would be detained day by day; but not so, and when night came, the boy packed up his books, and so planned matters that he was nearly an hour late in reaching home. He informed his father that Spafford had detained him at school, and that he brought his books home, determined not to submit longer to such tyranny. The father was satisfied, and informed him that it was all right. Things moved along all right for two or three days, when one evening, when the family had just finished their evening meal, Mr. Spafford appeared at the boy's home to inquire as to what kept the boy from school. The boy discovered the teacher coming, and disappeared through the back door. The father informed him the cause of the boy's absence from school, when Spafford stated that there was some mistake, that he had not so detained the boy. This explanation dumfounded the old gentleman, who immediately stopped to the back door and called, "Clark, come in here; Mr. Spafford says he did not detain you in school as you stated to me!"

Clark saw that he was caught, and replied, "Well, pa, then I had!"

Mrs. Zeininger had a good one on her son John, now a popular conductor on the Northwestern road between Madison and Milwaukee. John and Nels. Carlson were chums when attending the high school, but neither desired such steady confinement. The boys, under the leadership of John, put up a job. They took their books and hid them in the sand bank, left their homes regular for school anxious not to be tardy, and appeared again regularly at the close of school at noon and night. Everything went on nicely until one morning John's mother requested him to bring his books home. The boys went to the bank that afternoon for the books, but some cruel man had been hauling sand away from the bank and had dug up the books and appropriated them to the use of his own children. The old lady caught John, and he owned up, and she then put him to work, and he has been at it ever since.

The Bluff street tin smith did not believe the boys would tell such big lies to keep out of school, but in the same breath related how he undertook to fire a school ma'am out of school, and come out of the matinee a poor second best.

The men all had more or less experience to relate, which showed that the trouble complained of now-a-days did not amount to enough to make brief mention of.

The Fat Boy in Pickwick

probably had good teeth, seeing that he so speedily demolished the most substantial provender on the shortest notice. Nothing except a good appetite so conduces to the pleasure of eating, as a good set of grinders. To possess them, use SOZODONT, the great dental invigorator and beautifying agents. Yellow, tartar covered teeth grow pearly white and the gums acquire ruddiness and form a pleasing contrast to the snowy hue of the teeth when it is used.

Municipal Court.

In the municipal court a jury was drawn in the case of the state vs. William Garnett, charged with larceny of an overcoat at the Baptist church fire, and the trial set for to-morrow at nine o'clock a. m.

In the case of the state vs. Warren Holm, the motion to discharge under the verdict, was argued by counsel, and adjourned for decision to to-morrow morning.

Wm. Smith, helplessly drunk, and Wm. Clark, an unenterprising railroad tie tourist, were each given two days in the county bastile.

Our readers will find all the medicines advertised in this paper at Prentice & Evenson's drug store, opposite the postoffice. They keep all the principal patent medicines in the market, and, undoubtedly, have the largest stock in the city.

The Man Who Didn't Advertise.

Some years ago, a modest young man who, by strict economy, had accumulated a little wealth, decided to embark in the mercantile business on his own account, selecting a good location on one of our principal business streets, and filling the place with a moderate stock of goods, he was ready for trade. Day after day and month after month, he waited for customers; wondering how it was possible for a man to be in business and people not find it out; they passed by on the walk, saw him standing in the door or sitting in the window. Why didn't they come in and look at his goods?

The mystery was all explained one morning, as, standing in his doorway, he heard a lady say to a friend when passing, "Is this a store or a carpenter shop? I should think the man would put out a sign." "Sure enough," he said to himself; "all these months I have been trying to do business and haven't let the people know what I had to sell. What a lack of enterprise on my part." The next morning there appeared in front of his place of business, suspended from the awning, half a dozen hoop skirts, and two yards of red flannel. With a feeling of pride and satisfaction he said to himself, "there, I guess they won't take this for a carpenter shop again." The effect was marvelous; business, commenced that very day; his wealth accumulated as the months went by; he became independent; was able to look up his store and go to the postoffice or dinner, and come back and open up again, without the apparent loss of a single customer; his neighbors envied him the ease with which he managed his business and wondered at the satisfactory results.

We notice to-day that the well worn sign has disappeared; the active place of business has assumed a quiet look, and we are told that the late prosperous proprietor, not satisfied with doing well, has gone to make it lively for the merchants in a neighboring city.

Tardiness in Schools.

To the Editor.

Your article last evening does not state correctly the facts as to our public schools.

It has been the practice for a long time, if a pupil is late so much as one minute, to exclude him from that session, and send him home at once to get an excuse for tardiness. I have known instances, where pupils were in the school room and within three paces of their seats when the tardy bell struck, being sent away from the school to get an excuse.

Again, it is the practice if a pupil is to be absent and wants to keep a good standing on the roll of honor, "to ask him to come in and answer to his name at roll call; then he can be excused for the balance of the session; but on the records he is reported as being present at every session, and his name will be published as "not absent during the term." On the other hand the boys whom you meet on the streets, for being one minute late were excluded from the session for that morning and turned out to the streets while their parents suppose them to be in school. It is a misrepresentation of facts for the school board or teachers to say that pupils are not excluded from the sessions of the schools on the slightest pretext of tardiness. It is unjust to accuse all the children of deceiving their parents in this matter.

I invite any of the pupils who have been excluded in this way during the last year to write me a fair and truthful statement of the same, addressing me in your care. No names will be made public or divulged to any one.

Jackson Street, Rockport.

Yesterday afternoon the jury, empaneled for the purpose of condemning private property for the extension of Jackson street in Rockport to intersect with High street, met for the purpose of attending to the duties assigned them by the resolution of the common council. After visiting Rockport and examining the property to be condemned, the jury returned the following verdict, which will be given the common council by Justice Prichard:

We, the jury, empanneled in the matter of the condemnation of certain lands in Rockport, in the city of Janesville, for the purpose of a public highway, having found it necessary to take said lands as described in our separate verdict, further find that the value of the land taken from W. H. Norton, as described in said separate verdict, is $45.00, that W. H. Norton will suffer no damage by reason of the taking of said land, beyond the value of said land. That the value of the land to be taken from Martin Barron, as described in said separate verdict is $165.00. That said Martin Barron will suffer no damage by reason of the taking of said land beyond the value of said land. That the value of the land to be taken from the estate of John Lund, deceased, is $200.00. That the damage to the estate of said John Lund, deceased, otherwise sustained, by reason of the taking of said land will be $100.00.

DECIDED TO STRIKE.

The Mill Operatives at Fall River—Other Labor Notes.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Feb. 1.—The spinners, by a vote of 884 yeas to 31 nays, decided to strike, and appointed a committee of twenty-five to consider whether the strike shall be general or confined to certain mills and report Saturday night, when final action will be taken. The strike will occur Monday. The meeting authorized Secretary Howard to renew the proposition for a shut-down rather than a reduction of wages. The spinners have about $7,000 in the treasury and feel able to hold out an indefinite period. When the strike occurs a general shut-down is expected.

Cutting Down the Time.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Feb. 1.—The Boston & Albany railroad will reduce the hours of labor in the shops here to eight hours, reduce wages 25 per cent., and discharge fifty men. Another cut down is probable. At Ware, the Otis company reduces the hours of labor one-half. The Bliss, Fabyan & Co.'s mills, Ware, Thorndyke, Three Rivers, West Warren and Bondville, also begin running on half time. At Holyoke, the Unquomock silk mill will begin running on three-quarters time.

Will Take Twenty-Five Per Cent.

CONCORD, N. H., Feb. 1.—In the case of the Concord Carriage company, which had failed for $80,000, Samuel M. Griffin, the head of the company, says he lost all his own property and $21,000 belonging to his sister, Mrs. Abigail Walker of Concord. The shops have accommodations for seventy workmen, and have had a good business. The creditors will accept 25 per cent.

Termination of a Strike.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The strike of the cloak and dress makers has arrived at a speedy termination. Because of lack of funds, the strikers were obliged to yield, and a large number have been reinstated in their old places.

Trouble with the Truck Farmers.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The bitter fight between the produce jobbers of this city, and the Norfolk truck farmers, which has been in progress for the past fortnight, growing out of the demands made by the jobbers that all carriage in this city be paid by the shippers, continues, and the prospect of an early adjustment of the difficulty is anything but flattering. The jobbers held a private meeting, when reports were made concerning the demands that had been submitted to the shippers. The reports showed that the Norfolk men still persisted in holding their ground and the result was that the jobbers reaffirmed their resolution to refuse to handle any Virginia produce. A prominent produce dealer said that they were driven to it on account of the pure "cussedness" of virginia truck farmers, who for years past have discriminated against New York and favored Boston and Philadelphia, and they intended to stand firm until their demands were acceded to. A consignee of the Virginia truck farmers said he was afraid it would be some time before a settlement would be effected. "If the New York jobbers persist in refusing to buy from us," he said, "we will have no other alternative than to sell to whoever wants to buy."

Students on the War Path.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1.—During the "bowl breaking affair" at the University of Pennsylvania, the crowd of excited students got into the street, destroying considerable property. Some of them had their clothing torn and were almost nude. When the officers arrested George Danby, one of the participants in the melee, the crowd turned upon and assaulted the police, hurling bricks, stones and tin cans at them. Officer Murphy was struck on the head with a brick, and Officer Curran received a blow from a stone. Four pistol shots were fired during the disturbance. J. W. McBride was subsequently arrested in front of the station-house for inciting a breach of the peace. Fully 500 students followed the policemen to the station-house, howling and groaning at them.

Rugg, the Murderer.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Rugg, the Long Island murderer, has informed the jail attendants where the watches he stole from the Maybee and Townsend house, and also the gold chain stolen from the Maybee house, might be found. Officers were immediately sent to the place designated by Rugg and returned with both watches and part of the chain. The recovery of the property confirms Rugg's confession. It may turn out that one of the Tappans was mixed in the Maybee murders. It is stated that Rugg and John Tappan were seen in Brookville on the day the Maybees were murdered and it is known that Rugg and John Tappan were more or less intimate.

The Senior's Irregularities.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—It has been discovered that the embarrassment of the firm of P. W. Thomas & Co., stock brokers, is largely, if not wholly, due to the irregularities of the senior partner, William Evan Blakeway, who has absconded. The house of P. W. Thomas & Co. is one of the oldest and best known in the city, having been in existence for more than a century.

Thomas & Co. are understood to have sustained losses amounting to $1,000,000 during the first five years, in differences between the American and London markets. The widow of a former partner loses $1,000,000 in securities held by the house.

RAWLINS'
BACK SUPPORTING
Shoulder Braces.
A varied experience amongst Children and growing Girls as Teacher and medical attendant, lead Miss Emma J. Rawlins, the inventor of this BRACE, to believe that stooping shoulders and most spinal affections among Girls arise from the following causes: Debilitated muscles, owing to a lack of free and unrestricted exercise such as is allowed their brothers, of bad positions in standing and sitting.
This Brace affords a firm, yet gentle, SUPPORT TO THE BACK, at the same time drawing the shoulders backwards and downwards, expanding the chest and giving a healthy and graceful position.
